

July '50 Prom Open To School

All Loyola students are invited to attend the 1950 Junior Promenade. It was announced by Emerson V. Clarke and Charles M. Clark, co-presidents of the class of July '50.

To be held in the main ballroom of the Emerson Hotel on Friday, January 27, from 9:00 till 1:00, the prom will be formal with corsages and favors. Bill Maisel's orchestra will play for the dance.

Tickets Now On Sale

Tickets for the prom are now on sale at $3.00 per couple. They may be purchased at the booth in the cafeteria, at the Campus Shop, or from Edward Clarke, John Corcoran, John Cronin, and Eugene Haller. Tickets are also available from Robert Bourbon, class secretary, and Charles Sybert, class treasurer.

The Prom Committee, which consists of Clarke, Clark, Bourbon, Sybert, Lawrence Davis, Lawrence Mohr, and Francis DeMarco, announced that five couples will be seated at each table in the ballroom and that seating reservations may be obtained at the booth in the cafeteria until 3:15 today.

Ballroom Holds 400 To 500

The committee also stressed the large seating capacity of the ballroom, which holds between four and five hundred persons.

Reiterating his previous statement, Co-president Clarke said, "With the full co-operation of the student body this dance should be one of the outstanding events of the winter season. It is of the utmost importance that all co-operate by obtaining their tickets at the earliest possible convenience."

Science Heads Attend Parley

Loyola's science-department heads—the Rev. Joseph S. Didusch, S.J., biology; the Rev. John P. Delaney, S.J., physics; and the Rev. Edward S. Hauber, S.J., chemistry—represented the College at the annual meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

The meeting was held in New York City during Christmas week.

Represented Their Departments

All men of long experience, the Loyola scientists represented their individual departments in the various sessions of the meeting.

Besides his membership in the association, Father Didusch is a member of the Ecological Society of America, the American Genetics Association, the Natural History Society of Maryland, the Maryland Academy of Science, and the Natural Museum of New York.

Is Association Fellow

Father Delaney, a fellow of the association for many years, once sat on the organization's council as a delegate of the Seismological Society of America.

Father Hauber holds membership in the American Chemical Society and is a fellow of the American Institute of Chemists.

Medical Schools Accept Twelve

Twelve Loyola seniors have received notification of the tentative acceptance of their applications to medical school, and one other student has received similar word from dental school.

Three of the seniors—Emilio A. Blanco, Donald E. Cobill, and Walter R. Welzant, all of the July '50

The number of Loyolans accepted by medical school from the July Class, an all-time record for the School, is now nearly one out of four applicants. Other seniors still await action on their applications.

Class—will begin their four years of study at Georgetown University next fall.

George M. Bauernschub, Jr., Theodore E. Evans, J. Jacques Gunning, John F. Hartman, Thomas F. Haupt, Edward W. Hopf, David Owens, and J. Walter Smyth, of the July '50 Class, together with John E. Gessner, of the January '50 group, will attend the University of Maryland Medical School.

William H. Gaffney, July '50, the only Loyola student accepted by a dental school so far this year, will also go to the University of Maryland.

All of these students placed their applications nearly a year ago. Before being accepted, they were required to forward a transcript of their college marks and a recommendation from Loyola authorities.

Father Talbot To Be Present At Bishop's Consecration

The Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S.J., President of Loyola, will attend the consecration of the Most Rev. James H. Griffiths, S.T.D., Titular Bishop-Elect of Gaza and Auxiliary Bishop to the Military Vicar (His Eminence, Francis Cardinal Spellman), at St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York City, on Wednesday, January 18. He will also attend the luncheon to follow at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

Father Talbot is a close friend of Bishop Griffiths.

On Monday, January 23, Father Talbot will speak before the New Jersey Teachers' Association in Jersey City. His topic will be "Martyrs and Indians."

Twenty Loyola seniors will receive their degrees at the first session of the One Hundredth Commencement, to be held in the Evergreen Alumni Gymnasium on Sunday, January 29, at 4:00 p.m.

Addressing the graduates will be the Rev. Jerome D'Souza, S.J., United Nations delegate from India. Father D'Souza will speak on "UNO: What Should the Catholic Attitude Be?" The valedictory address will be given by Edward J. McNeal.

Archbishop To Preside

The Most Rev. Francis P. Keough, D.D., Archbishop of Baltimore, will preside at the exercises. Degrees will be conferred upon the graduates by the Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S.J., President of Loyola.

In addition, Father Talbot will present Father D'Souza with a Doctor of Literature Degree, honoris causa. Another honorary award for a prominent Baltimorean is now under consideration and may be given at the commencement.

Is Renowned Educator

Father D'Souza, a renowned Indian educator, was born in Mangalore in 1897. He entered the Society of Jesus in 1923 and was ordained in August, 1931.

The son of a family that has been Catholic since the Seventeenth Century, Father D'Souza has three brothers, all of whom are priests. His only sister is the superior of a group of Indian sisters in Mangalore.

His mother received the papal cross, "Pro Ecclesia et Pontifice," for giving her entire family to the service of God.

Prenched At Gandhi Obsequies

He was named rector of Loyola University, Madras, India, in 1942, a position which he still holds although temporarily absent on United Nations business at present.

In August, 1946, Father D'Souza was appointed to the Indian Constituent Assembly, the national body delegated to draft and ap-

Evening School Now Preparing Travel Talks

Plans for a series of lectures on the shrines and churches to be visited by pilgrims making the special Holy Year tours are now being completed by the Loyola Evening School.

The Sponsoring Committee for the lecture series, which includes representatives from every important Catholic organization in Baltimore, will meet in the Faculty House today at 8:00 p.m. to discuss final preparations.

Contains Nine Lectures

Containing nine lectures, the series will be presented in the parish hall of St. Ignatius Church, Calvert and Monument Streets.

The first lecture, "The Papacy," will be given by the Rev. Edmund A. Walsh, S.J., dean of Georgetown University's Foreign Service School, on Friday, February 3, at 7:45 p.m.

On the following Friday, February 10, the Rev. Richard F. Grady, S.J., dean of the Evening School, University of Scranton, will speak on "Paris and Her Churches."

Lourdes Talk Continues Series

Continuing the series, the Rev. John J. Ryan, S.J., editor of Fatima Findings, will lecture on "Lourdes" on Friday, February 17. This will be followed on Friday, February 24, by a talk on "Ireland," to be given by the Rev. M. McKeon, S.J., director of the Labor School at Le Moyne College.

Next on the schedule is "Italian Shrines and Churches," which will be delivered by the Rev. Thomas Whelan, director of the Maryland Action Guild.

Following this, on Thursday, March 16, the Rev. Neil J. Twombly, S.J., dean of the Wernersville Jesuit Juniorate, will speak on "Rome."

Ticket Prices Listed

The last three talks—on Friday, March 17, 24, and 31—will be "Fatima," by Father Ryan; "History of Holy Years," by the Rev. Gustav A. Welzel, S.J., professor at Woodstock College; and "Inside the Vatican," by the Rev. Willfrid J. Parsons, S.J., professor of political science at Catholic University and noted authority on Church-state relations.

Ticket prices are $1.00 per lecture or $7.00 for the entire series. Anyone wishing to attend should contact the Loyola College Evening School and make reservations.

Loyola Polio Victim Reported Improving

Alan Meehan, Loyola athlete who was stricken with poliomyelitis last October, is reported to be in good spirits and improving. The Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S.J., President of the College, who, together with several other faculty members, visited Alan at Children's Hospital during the Christmas holidays, stated, "I feel that it is a blessing to visit Alan Meehan. His courage and optimism and good spirits are an inspiration."

News In Brief

The engagement of Miss Mary Jean Conn, of Baltimore, to John V. Mulvey, July '50, was announced on New Year's Eve.

A daughter, christened Karen Lee, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph von Sterling on December 31. Sterling is a member of the 1950 B. S. I class.

The garrison porch which formerly sheltered the north entrance to the faculty house has been torn down to allow free passage to trucks engaged in the Chapel construction. The structure had been damaged by a heavy vehicle early in December.

The Rev. John J. Scanlan, S. J., addressed the Johns Hopkins University Newman Club on "The Case of Dr. Samler" on Wednesday.

A juke box has been placed in the cafeteria to replace the one which was removed before the Christmas holidays. The A. A. sponsored this innovation.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schwartz, of this city, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Mary June, and Mr. Charles Reed, ex '50.

Loyolans Daily Prepare Record Of Their Times In The Oakroom

When another generation is celebrating the passing of a half-century, and eight-toed archaeologists are busily engaged in excavating the mound which was Evergreen, one of the most rewarding discoveries they will make will be a series of elongated, wooden-and-plastic tablets bearing a fascinating record of the mind of the 1950 college man.

Presuming that the roof will have fallen in before Slater System students will off the caf tables on the Last Night Of Loyola, this priceless testimony to the doodling profligacy of caf-dwellers will offer the scientists of 3950 endless grounds for conjecture. Of course, the recurrence of designs similar to elongated cross-word puzzles might give rise to false theories about a mono-plane school of black and white abstractionism which existed back in 1950.

That could cause critics of the

GRAD STAG

This Sunday evening's annual stag oyster roast will feature every variety of raw and treated oyster known to man, according to the publicity chairman, John J. Kernan. The annual affair, sponsored by the Alumni Association, will be held from 1 to 6 p. m. in the gymnasium.

An extensive bill of fare has been promised, including a full variety of oysters and meats, condiments and beverages. Tickets are $2.75.

Chairman of the affair is Carl Gottschalk, and tickets may be obtained from the other members of the executive committee, class captains, or at the door.

Father Higgins Will Address Ad-Men At Jan. 18 Luncheon

The Rev. Thomas J. Higgins, S. J., Ph.D., will be one of the speakers at the annual good-will luncheon of the Advertising Club, on Jan. 18. Don Fenn, of St. Michael and All Angels', and Rabbi Shusterman will be the other speakers.

Father Higgins has recently completed Man as Man, a text on ethics now employed at Loyola. He is secretary of the Board of Trustees, and professor of Philosophy.

coming epoch more trouble than the Armory show. Of course, we know that the object is nothing other than a con for a game of tabletop shuffle-board.

Then our bald-headed friends of the future may be puzzled over mounting columns of complicated figures, sometimes running completely off one table, across the floor, and onto another table-top. Could this have been a clandestine calculation of the percentage of one dollar collected in taxes under the condition known among historians as the ill-fated governmental experiment, the Welfare State? Could some student have been attempting to calculate the productivity-potential of the land in the face of the rising birth rate?

We know that it was a hard-pressed veteran, calculating how far he could stretch his G.I. Bill before he had to go to work, or perhaps some struggling student calculating the gas mileage of his car.

And thus do fallacies arise, misconceptions come about, and eras made to look more intelligent than they were.

Athletic Boosters' Club Opens For Limited Enrollment Today

Membership in the recently organized Boosters' Club, a group dedicated to more and better cheering at basketball games, is open to the student body for the first time today. Identification pins are available in the bookstore at cost.

The idea behind the movement, which originated in a Student Council motion by the Cosmopolitan Club representative, is to seat a group of students willing to cheer in unison, thus forming a nucleus for the less organized cheering sections.

Especially reserved seats will be given to those students wearing "Booster" badges when they present their student books.

F. F. Leimkuhler and Eugene P. Corrigan compose the committee appointed by the Council to organize the club. The simple badges they have provided will cost five cents apiece. There is no other obligation placed upon members except that they are asked to cheer under direction.

The Club is expected to make its first appearance at the Seton Hall game. The idea was considered by the Student Council last year and endorsed by the Cosmopolitan Club at that time.

1950 Annual Will Honor Holy Father

The Evergreen Annual for the class of 1950 will be dedicated to His Holiness, Pope Pius XII, Ferdinand Leimkuhler, editor of the publication, announced recently. According to report the yearbook is progressing on schedule and will be distributed as previously announced.

The editor commented, "We all agree that we could find no better dedication. The Holy Father has done more to insure our own futures than any single person by striving to bring normalcy into a chaotic world." The staff expects to obtain a full-page portrait of the Pope to be used in the dedication.

Edward Kennedy, staff artist has completed full-page dividers for the three sections of the book.

Alumnus Assumes New Position; Oysters Await Grads Attention

by John J. Pugh

Word has been received that Jim Reynolds, '47, who has been personnel director at Mercy Hospital for the past year-and-a-half, is now also director of public relations.

The increase in responsibility (and paycheck, to be sure) came only two days before Christmas. Of course, the Mayor's recent visit for a "routine check-up" was merely coincidental, but it was accompanied by both pictures and public statements. From all appearances, the hospital and Jim have mutually gained. Congratulations to both!

Council Hears Election Woes, Other Topics

How to select a successor to Francis Meagher, graduating Athletic Association president, was one of several major decisions made at the Student Council meeting of January 5. Edward O. Clarke posed the problem, which was answered by general decision to approve the accession of the vice-president of the Block L Club to the post, even though it is ordinarily an elective position.

The substantiation for the decision was found in a requested opinion from Dr. Harry Kirwin, lay moderator, in which he pointed out that the Block L officer already possessed the powers of the A.A. president in his absence. It also follows the lines of presidential succession in the Student Council.

President Emidio Blanco announced that a surplus of $26.10 existed after purchase of a television set for polio victim Alan Mechan, bought with funds contributed by the student body. After some discussion the question was referred to a special committee.

The committee on the formation of a Boosters' Club, named at the short meeting before the holidays after approval of a motion by Eugene Corrigan, of the Cosmopolitan Club, reported through chairman F. F. Leimkuhler that the question of central seating of a group dedicated to serve as a nucleus for cheering at basketball games was in the hands of the Athletic Director for consideration.

A request for funds in order adequately to publicize the coming elections in the freshman class, made by the committee appointed to supervise the balloting, touched off a long debate on the Council's responsibility in such matters. A detailed motion providing for such allocation was not brought onto the floor, but it was finally decided to have a permanent sign made, which could be used for all elections.

to be the only living Loyolan who served in the Marine Air Corps during the War. Welcome home!

This issue may reach some of the Alumni in time to serve as a reminder of the Stag Oyster Roast at Evergreen on this Sunday, January 15, from 1 until 6 p. m. It is generally understood that this affair is conducted with the intention (among others) of furthering the use of black ink in the financial records of the Alumni Association. Among the many fund-raising promotions which pursue us during the course of each year, this one is exceptional (and delightful, we think) in view of its provision for feeding the beast. This is, of course, in addition to the excellent opportunity furnished for renewing old enmities and fashioning new ones.

As before the record-breaking Alumni Retreat, we avow that we look forward to seeing you there and offer as a slogan: FEED THE TREASURY BY FEEDING YOURSELF!

Sciences Offer New Electives

Four new courses will be offered by the Science Department during the second semester.

A descriptive course in astronomy, Physics 103, will begin on January 31, under the direction of Mr. Donald Slager. Classes will meet every Tuesday for one hour and will receive one credit.

An advanced quantitative analysis course will be held every Tuesday and Thursday. Instruction will consist of two lecture periods and one four-period laboratory per week. The Rev. Edward S. Hauber, S.J., will conduct this four-credit course.

Dr. William M. Thornton, A.B., M.A., Ph.D., research chemist at Loyola, will conduct two advanced chemistry courses. Each of the two is open to a limited number of students.

Feigl spot analysis, limited to six students, will be open to those students who have at least one semester each of organic, qualitative and quantitative chemistry. Also being taught by Dr. Thornton is a preparatory course for micro-analytical chemistry, physical measurements, which is limited to twelve.

The Criticlog

High comedy has brought a much-needed uplift in the motion picture business over the holidays. Adam's Rib has brought back the subtle cultural appeal of the Philadelphia Story, with Spencer Tracy, Katherine Hepburn and David Wayne turning in fast, hilarious performances in an extremely well-written script by Garson Kanin and Ruth Gordon.

Every reel of this film offers more and more appeal to the theatre-goer. The wit is quick, subtle, though seldom lost—even at the rapid pace at which it was directed. Even the music, based on a new Cole Porter tune Farcical, Amazda, is especially adapted to the story line.

From Broadway has come the top supporting cast. David Wayne comes from Mr. Roberts and Finian's Rainbow, in which he played the leprechaun. Tom Ewell, who is the husband of Rib, is a master pantomimist, coming from a Broadway revue; and Born Yesterday (which also sends Paul Douglas to Hollywood) gives us the blonde Brooklyne wife of Rib (Judy Holliday).

Mendel Club Gives Moderator Gift

The Mendel Club presented their moderator of many years, the Rev. Joseph A. Didusch, S.J., with a Christmas gift of an office space-heater. It was announced by J. Walter Smyth, president of the club.

It was hoped by the club that the heater would serve to supplement a reading lamp and easy chair given to Father Didusch last year in commemoration of his golden jubilee.

TKA Honors Loyola Teacher

Mr. James A. Perrott was recently elected as a member of the National Council of Tau Kappa Alpha. This council serves as trustees of the organization.

The installation took place at the fraternity's semi-annual meeting held on December 27 to 29 at the Steven's Hotel in Chicago. The revised constitution of the fraternity was presented to the assembly. This presentation climaxed one year's work of the constitution committee, composed of Dr. Robert Huber, of the University of Vermont, Dr. David Potter, of the University of Akron, and Mr. Perrott, who served as chairman.

The Speech Association of America held its annual convention at the same time and place. Mr. Perrott presented a paper to this group on the teaching of speech.

Following his graduation from Yale and a subsequent short practice of law in Florida, Mr. Perrott came to Loyola in 1946 as an instructor in oral English. At present he is an instructor in English and Speech and moderator of the Robert Bellarmine Debating Society.

Debating Society Resumes Intercollegiate Activity

The Robert Bellarmine Debating Society is set to resume its intercollegiate and intra-club activity after having been temporarily inactive during the Christmas holiday.

The official debate handbooks, long delayed in their arrival, have been distributed to the members of the society. The books give a complete analysis and discussion of the national topic of nationalizing the nonagricultural industries, together with sample arguments for constructive speeches. Their distribution is handled by the Western Debate Bureau, which determines the national topic for its member colleges.

Thus far the debatemen have participated in three forensic contests, losing as many to Washington College, Holy Cross College and Georgetown University.

Next on the society's schedule is an exhibition debate before the Women's Club of Catonsville on February 14. The members who will participate in this contest has not been announced.

Riflemen Plan Matches Away

The rifle club is planning to schedule several away matches this year, as well as postal matches of the kind which it has conducted in the past.

William Voenick, president of the club, was informed by the Dean that consideration is being given to a proposal to grant excused absences to members of the club who are scheduled to fire out of town matches.

To date only one away match is in the process of being scheduled, this being with American University. Voenick has announced plans to schedule another in the near future.

All previous matches have been conducted through the mails. Loyola's team of five fires at the Calvert Hall High School range, then mails the results to the competing college, which in turn mails its results to us. The United States Merchant Marine Academy meets Loyola in a postal match on January 21.

Arms and ammunition for the team are obtained free of charge from the United States Army.

Evergreen Thespians Lose To Goucher On Television

Loyola's Mask and Rapier Society lost a close decision to the dramatic club of Goucher College last Tuesday.

The two groups met on a television program broadcast over station WAAM entitled "Collegiate Talent Tussle." Evergreen's thespians amassed 98 points, but this was not enough to top the 102 of the Goucher actresses.

Participating for Loyola were William Mulligan and Gerald Kimmitt, who sang and danced their "Hello Boys" and "Mother" routines; Janes Piraro, who played a solo number, Lady of Spain, on the accordion; and the Glee Club Quartet, who harmonized Tell Me Why and Say, Boys, That's Where My Money Goes.

Vote!

Blame Where Blame Is Due

Disinterested freshmen failed to obtain the number of votes required for a valid election in their first class election. It is time to try again. Why any class must face the necessity of attempting a new election will always be an enigma to those students who are sincerely interested in any form of class activity.

Were the College to discontinue all forms of social activity, there would be a cry of protest raised by the student body. Yet these very men are actually achieving the identical result by the silent mandate of an invalid election. The system employed at the College places the chief burden of providing suitable social events on the classes and particularly on the class officers. If there are no officers, there can be little, if no, activity.

The class of July '50 failed last year to hold valid elections in three consecutive attempts. It learned its lesson well and elected a competent and authorized board of officers this year. What caused this important change of attitude? The answer can be found in the dearth of social activity with which the class had been forced to deal during the semester previous to the successful elections. The men who reluctantly governed the class during this time were hindered by the lack of a vote on the Council. This could happen again. A group of officers who have no vote can hardly be expected to effect any comprehensive program.

The same situation is prevalent in some campus organizations. Either no officers are elected, or the duty is cursorily performed to meet the demands of a constitution. As for consideration of the suitable men for the respective offices, there is none. Yet these hastily elected men are expected to provide and carry out large programs of activity.

It is time that the students place the blame where the blame is due. They must vote, and they must do it with forethought and consideration. Until such time as the student body takes the proper interest, it cannot justly expect any startling successes.

From The Reader

To the Editor of THE GREYHOUND,
Dear Sir:

Since the removal of an overused but beloved piece of mechanism from our now noticeably silent cafeteria, the students of this institution have been giving each other checks in return for songs (?) which are capable of causing indulgence even more easily than the aforementioned mechanism.

To avert further disorder and possibly complete chaos, please may we have our juke box back?

Respectfully,

A MUSIC LOVING STUDENT

From the Library

A lady urged to read Hilaire Belloc (pronounced Hillary Belloc) tried How the Reformation Happened. When his table-thumping logic proved too strong, she threw the book out the window. "No ma," she said, "can talk to me like that in my own house." As a thinker, Belloc looks truth in the eye and nails polite hypocrisies to the wall. As an artist, he makes every word pull its weight, never wastes your time or leaves his meaning in doubt.

Pelantic blistarians dislike him because he disdains footnotes. "Scholarly readers don't need them," he says; "others don't want them." In Marie Antoinette he vividly describes the queen's view across rainsoaked fields on the way to execution. "Pure fiction," the critics sneered; "it probably wasn't raining, and a building blocks the view." They swallowed their words hard when, from the date on the building's cornerstone and the day's newspapers, Belloc established both the view and the rain.

An educated man usually gathers his own library. Belloc wrote one—over 100 volumes of fiction, humor, poetry, essays, biography, history, travel, apologetics, and economics. He foretold World War II in 1919, British economic conditions of 1950 in The Servile State (1912), and Adolf Hitler in The Path to Rome (1902). Look him up in the library catalogue when you want good reading on anything. In fact, he wrote a book on anything when he'd run out of titles.

Singers Grab Name Band Meal - Ticket

by Larry Davis

The band business is in a slump—a bad one. Latest of the big outfits to fold are those of Wooly Herman and Charlie Barnet. Wooly is now working small combos, and Barnet is a member of the Carlos Gastel management agency. Both, incidentally, were top men in the recent "Downbeat" favorite band poll, but since this poll is taken among musicians and people close to the music business, it is not representative of the average listening public.

But let's take a look at the present situation and try to analyze this apparent disinterest in name bands. Disc shows of today are composed, for the most part, of name vocalists. Ten years ago name bands were the most frequent requests with an occasional Crosby or Tony Martin included. Why this change in the listening public's taste?

In reality there has been no change in the public's taste. The most popular records were always the ballads with a vocal chorus. Occasionally an instrumental would click, but it would be solely on its merit as a novelty. This, of course, does not apply to the preferences of the minority group who find musical value in an instrumental. Ten years ago name bands with good vocalists provided this major demand, giving their vocalists far better background music than the independent vocalists were getting from seemingly tired, poorly instrumented studio bands.

Today the reverse is true. The independent vocalists are getting excellent background support. As a result, most of the former top-band vocalists are on their own and some of the new vocal stars are not even bothering with band apprenticeship.

The musicians themselves are partly responsible for their present situation. Recognizing the public's satisfaction with the independent vocalists, the musicians seized their chance to drop the emphasis on dreary ballads and devoted themselves to experiments in music with the result that their music is no longer understood by the average listener.

Running With The Hounds

by Bob Bourbon

Sometime during the latter part of this month, with all the pomp and ceremony incident to such an occasion, a group of young Loyola men will walk up upon an elevated platform, receive a roll of parchment, and be informed that they are henceforth, now, and forever, members of the alumni. Included among this select graduating aggregation will be a much smaller group of men, who, in an athletic sort of a way, have helped to put Loyola where it is today. We believe that, in passing, some mention should be made of them, because each represents some particular phase of sports prosperity over the past three or four years here at Evergreen.

Sports Hall Of Fame

Proceeding alphabetically we have, or rather we had, George Brown, a regular for four seasons on both the track and cross-country teams, and holder of the all-time Mason-Dixon Conference record for most first-place honors won in track activities . . . Jack Blundell, three years on both the lacrosse and swimming teams, holds three M-D records in the latter . . . Bill Cronin, standout for two years on Greyhound golf teams . . . Fannie Meagher, 165 pound conference wrestling champ and lacrosse close-defenseman in both 1946, and in 1949 . . .

To continue, Bob Miller, for three seasons a luminary on Bish Baker's stick ten, captained them to a six-and-three mark last year . . . John Mohler, wrestler in 1947-48, then switched to the swimming team, copper M-D diving championship in '47-48 and has been an aquatic regular last year and this year. He also has three years on the lacrosse team, won All-South honors the last two seasons . . . Jeep Mueller, two years of wrestling, winner of the heavyweight championship in his first year of action and several-year track dependable, performing in the shot-put and discus . . . Andy O'Donnell, a year of tennis, and four years of varsity basketball at a guard position, has scored 842 points, in addition to establishing a truly great record as a ball handler, playmaker, and team sparkpler during that period of time.

This isn't meant to be a stroll down memory lane, nor an attempt to excite anyone to farewell tears, but we can't help but think that these guys are responsible, directly or indirectly, for a good number of the awards now resting on our trophy-case shelves.

Swimming Team In Successful Debut

Loyola's swimming team began another season last Saturday, up at Dickinson College. Although not too many people are aware of the fact, swimming is, at least considered from its won-and-loss record, the most successful of our winter sports here at school. For the last two seasons, under Fannie Mueller, they have won the Mason-Dixon championship, and during that time dropped only three meets, two of them to powerful La Salle College.

This year, under Jake Fisher, they appear to be a strong outfit, and it goes without saying that they hope to make it three championships in a row.

Their next meet is Saturday a week from tomorrow; everyone is invited. And you don't even need a pass book to get in.

People Are Funnier Than Others

When asked recently to comment on Georgetown University's top-notch freshman team which he had just seen in action, American U.'s basketball coach, Staff Cassell, replied, "It doesn't scare me. They can only play five of them at one time."

At the recent Loyola-Regis game the Rangers' mentor, Larry Varnell, had the unpleasant experience of seeing five of his ten-man squad go out on personal fouls. Wishing to give one of his players a rest, and not having anyone to substitute but himself, he went up to the scorekeeper's table and, while taking his coat off, signified by word and motion that he was going into the game.

What he didn't know was that Wilson, our diminutive gymnasium superintendent, wouldn't let him on the playing floor with his street shoes on. However, Varnell's altruistic gesture drew a nice round of applause.

Basketball, Ohio Style

Out at last weekend's Dayton U. basketball game, Loyola proved to be quite a drawing card. Thirty-five hundred people witnessed the tilt, the largest crowd ever to witness a contest at the Flyers' gym—so large, in fact, that the Fire Department told the authorities to discontinue ticket sales.

Which just proves what we've known all along: Loyola has a pretty hot team. Too bad we lost.

Late Score

Loyola's Greyhounds won their fourth straight Mason-Dixon Conference game last Tuesday evening at the Frederick Armory, beating Mt. St. Mary's, 76 to 68. Bob Amerson was highly effective from the floor as he scored 31 points to lead the visiting team, receiving help from Mel Baldwin, who made seven out of his first eight shots, for a total of 14.

Swimmers Top Dickinson Team

Loyola College's Swimming team, composed about equally of veterans and newcomers, won its 1950 opener in easy fashion last Saturday afternoon, as the Greyhounds upended Dickinson College, 50 to 24.

The Green and Grey copped six out of nine events in sweeping to its victory, losing only the 220 yard freestyle, the 150 yard backstroke, and the 440 yard freestyle, while taking firsts in the 300 yard Medley relay, the 50 yard freestyle, the 100 yard freestyle, the 200 yard breaststroke, and the 400 yard freestyle relay.

Strong In Freestyle

The Greyhounds were strong in the short-distance freestyle events, as they placed Tom Rooney first in both the 50 and 100 yard dashes and nailed down two of the other four second and third place positions.

Coach Jake Fisher announced this week that Bill Klarmer has been elected Captain of this year's swimming team. He replaces Jack Blundell, who is to graduate soon.

Earl Schmidt, Loyola's top diver last year, showed that he had lost none of his proficiency as he finished ahead of Bill Lashley, of Dickinson, and teammate John Mohler.

Fisher's Debut Successful

This afternoon's meet was the coaching debut of Jake Fisher, star performer from the 1949 Loyola combine, and it couldn't have been a more successful one. The Greyhounds annexed four out of the first five events, and the outcome was never in any doubt.

Loyola's winning points came on the performances of almost a score of Greyhound operatives, as 17 men joined in the Green and Grey's scoring.

Courtmen Lose Two Contests On Rocky Ohio Road Trip

by Joseph Steffens

Xavier University

Loyola absorbed its worst defeat of the season as the Greyhounds fell victim to Xavier University's power-laden eagles, by a score of 83 to 63, in Cincinnati, Ohio, last Friday night.

The visiting Loyola five were no match for the fleshy Musketeers, suffering their fourth loss of the season before a crowd of 3100 people, one of the largest assemblies before which a Loyola team has ever had the honor of playing.

Bob Anderson, however, provided some measure of consolation for Loyola. The rangy senior turned in another brilliant performance as he slumped 31 points through the netting to annex scoring honors for the night. Bob set a new individual scoring mark for the Xavier fieldhouse.

Dick Korb and Gene Smith tallied 21 and 22 points, respectively, to pace the victors. Although slow in getting started they found the range at the beginning of the second quarter and turned the contest into a rout.

Dayton University

Loyola dropped its second game in as many days as the Hounds were downed by Dayton University to the tune of 68 to 42, last Saturday evening, at Dayton, Ohio.

The Flyers, in winning their 15th game in 16 starts, scored 43 points in the second half to give Loyola its fifth loss of the season.

Bob Anderson cashed in with 11 points to lead the Hounds in scoring for the second straight night. Mike Zeilatis and Ben Cook were second for the Evergreen five, with one marker apiece. Ben, playing his first year of varsity ball, turned in an excellent performance under the boards. The lanky sophomore used his 6'7" frame to good advantage as he shared his share of rebounds.

Loyola kept within striking distance throughout the first half, but the Flyers, paced by Dan Meineke and Charles Grigsby, pulled ahead after the intermission to ice the decision.

Loyola Bows To Hopkins, 6-26, In '50 Conference Mat Opener

Loyola's matmen got off to a bad season's start, as they bowed to an experienced Johns Hopkins University squad, by a score of 26 to 6, last Saturday night at Homewood.

Charlie Brunishian, the Jays' 121-pounder, unbowed last year, continued his string of victories as he pinned Chuck Lallath in the first period. John Merendino, 128-pounder, suffered an injury to his elbow in the first period and lost by default.

Ted Haupt, unable to free himself from Hopkins' 136-pounder, Nelson Potter, nevertheless, turned in one of the best matches of the evening before losing, 6 to 2. Harry Tighe, the visitors' former 126-pound titleholder, proved too much for freshman Nell Ballou, as he pinned the latter in the second, in the 146-pound match.

In one of the feature matches of the evening, a 175-pound encounter, the Green and Grey's 165-pound defending titleholder, Fannie Meagher, was unexpectedly beaten by Walt Lapinskl. Meagher was iced out, 8 to 0.

The heavyweight division fracas saw Loyola's Carter Beese top Bill Litz, 6 to 1, to give the visitors their other win of the evening.

For the Greyhounds this evening's meet was the first of seven regularly scheduled affairs.

Swim Team Set For La Salle

by Gene Conroy

Having tested their water wings on January 7, when they initiated their 1950 swimming season in a meet with Dickinson College, the Greyhound natators are now set to encounter the tankmen of La Salle College, the University of Baltimore and American University.

In meeting the Joe Verdeur-led Explorers of La Salle, Loyola will be facing some of the top swimmers of the country. Besides Verdeur, who not only is the record-breaking Olympic breaststroke champ, but also holder of numerous national and international records, the Philadelphia outfit boasts such stalwarts as Allen Rhodes and Bob Regan.

Rhodes, Regan Are Champs

Rhodes is a former National Catholic 220-yard freestyle champion. Regan was an All-American Intercollegiate freestyler in 1946 and 1947. The Green and Grey men will meet the Explorers today in the Philadelphia pool.

It was the crew from Philly who handed the Loyolans their only defeat last year, a 45-to-30 setback. On the other hand, the Greyhounds squeezed past the Eagles of American University by a 38-to-37 count.

To Open Home Season

When they swim the Bees of Baltimore University on Saturday, January 21, the College's swimmers will be opening the year's home season. Coach Fisher's charges will be able to enter this particular meet with a bit more confidence than today's match, for the Bees are still new to the swimming world and should not provide too much opposition for the '49 Mason-Dixon Champs.

The Loyola-American U. swim fracas should be just as close as last year's one-point victory for the Hounds, as both schools have veteran squads returning with a wealth of newcomers on hand to fill-in in place of those aquatic stars lost through graduation. Action will take place in the Evergreen tank on Saturday, February 4.

"I'LL TAKE IT," says Mike Zedalis as he battles Leroy Ishman, No. 12, of American University, for a rebound. Sherwood Webster, No. 11, watches the action which took place in the 24th renewal of the school's inter-urban rivalry on January 4.

Basketeers Rally To Defeat Eagles, 50-44, In M-D Test

Rallying in the final four minutes of the game, Loyola's basketballers defeated the Eagles of American University, 50 to 44, at Evergreen, on Wednesday evening, January 4.

The victory marked the third win in the Mason-Dixon Conference for the Greyhounds, and the loss was the first for the Washingtonians in four play.

Loyola Takes Lead

Herb Melner's three point sortie with but three and a half minutes of game time remaining to be played turned the tide of the contest by giving the Hounds the lead for the first time, at 43 to 42. A basket by Bill Patton, the Eagles' last tally of the game, then pushed the score to 44 to 43 in favor of the visitors.

Vince Gallagher connected with a high-arching set shot to put Loyola out in front to stay, 45 to 44. A field goal by Captain Mike Zedalis and three foul shots raised the College's total to 50.

Casanova Gives Formula For Broncs' Grid Success

by Bob Bonbon

"Spirit, co-operation, and the will to win, that's our formula for success," said Len Casanova, coach of the 1950 Orange Bowl Football Champion Broncos, of Santa Clara University,

Interviewed shortly before his squad's January 2nd 21-to-13 upset victory over the University of Kentucky, Casanova opined that the high morale of his team was an important factor in its 1949 grid success.

First Orange Bowl Appearance

The prematurely-grey, nattily-dressed mentor and youthful head of a family of three, told how the Jesuit-manned institution from the far west, and one of two Catholic universities in a major post-season game, manages to undertake an athletic program which is more than commensurate with the size of the school: "Football is on an even level with our other sports, as far as importance is concerned."

"We have a small student body, of 1152, but at the same time we try to field representative teams in all of our sports." He also pointed out the success which Santa Clara's basketball team was having in its tour of the east at the same time that the Californians were prepping for the Miami classic.

Graduated In 1927

Trio Of Frays For Wrestlers

With the experience of two matches behind them, Loyola's wrestlers are now prepping to meet the next three squads on their agenda: Towson State Teachers, Western Maryland College and the University of Maryland.

The Terrapins from the University of Maryland should give Coach Phil Goodman's grapplers their biggest fight of the season for they return this year with virtually the same squad that defeated the Greyhounds last year by a 21-to-11 count.

When they encounter the mat teams of Towson and Western Maryland, the Greyhounds will be hoping for a repeat performance of last year's victories over the two schools. Loyola won easily from these foes by 34-to-0 and 24-to-6 scores.

All three tests are home matches and will be wrestled in the following order: Towson, January 21; Western Maryland, January 27; Maryland, February 4.

from Santa Clara in 1927, and after an eight-year stint in high-school coaching ranks he joined Buck Shaw, of recent Frisco Forty Niners' fame, back at his old alma mater.

As assistant coach he helped guide the Broncs to two straight Sugar Bowl engagements, in 1937, and again in 1938. Both contests were against L. S. U., and in both instances the visitors were victorious.

Top Man In 1946

Casanova became top man in 1946, after several years in the Navy, and since then he has slowly but surely proceeded to raise Santa Clara to its current position as the top independent college eleven on the Pacific Coast. By many they are known as "The Notre Dame of the West."

The Santa Clara mentor believes: "This past season was the best the Broncs have ever experienced. However, with 19 lettermen graduating we'll have our troubles next year."

Maybe. But the other members of his local coaching fraternity think not.

Loyolans Win Two Contests

Loyola's cagers racked-up two holiday basketball victories in downing the squads of Ohio Wesleyan University and Regis College of Denver, Colorado.

The Greyhounds defeated the Bishops of Ohio by a 51-to-64 score here at Evergreen, on Thursday evening, December 22, and then eight days later scored a 69-to-50 triumph over the Regis Rangers.

Bob Anderson's 20 points and Billy Johnson's 16 were high for the Green and Grey in the Ohio game, and Anderson once again led in the scoring column in the Regis game with 27.

Quartet Of Court Foes Provide Next Opposition

by Ed Hugerty

The last rapidly escaping days of January introduce the Loyola College hoopsters to the fans of Chestertown and Westminster, but newborn February brings them back to their well-liked home at Evergreen to engage a strong Seton Hall five and a neighborhood rival, Johns Hopkins.

On January 21, the Hounds visit Washington College for a conference tilt, and the outcome may well depend on the defensive tactics of Billy Johnson, Loyola guard, against last season's Mason-Dixon Conference high scorer, Nick Scalfion. Last year the Green and Grey knocked over the Sho'men by 85-to-63 and 56-to-53 scores, as the Chestertown aggregation finished the '48-'49 season with a won-and-loss record of 7 and 11.

To Play Seton Hall

Lefty Reitz's eagles then meet the Terrors of Western Maryland College on January 31, and this team looms as one of the road-blocks of the Greyhounds quest of the Conference crown. Last year, the Hounds were victorious, by counts of 77 to 49 and 72 to 47, as the vanquished ended play with a 8-and-13 log.

Loyola returns home, and on February 2, the Evergreen campus will be invaded by Seton Hall College. The Pirates, who hail from South Orange, New Jersey, defeated the Reltzmen in an overtime game last season, by a score of 61 to 64, but "revenge was sweet" when the Evergreen hoopsters conquered the Hallmen later in the season, by 74 to 70, here in Baltimore.

The first-place tie between '48 and '50 was dissolved when '50 moved into undisputed possession of the top rung by taking two of its games with '44-'45, while '50 was dropping all three to the In-rushing team of '40. By this sweep, '40 moved into second place, just one-half game behind '48. Individual honors on January 3 went to Dick Kiltch of the '44-'45 team.

Cagers Take Two Of Three

Loyola College fell victim to LaSalle College on December 14, by a score of 73 to 51, on the winners' floor. Sparked by Larry Foust, the Explorers led throughout the contest. Foust, LaSalle's 6'9" all-American candidate, annexed scoring honors with 17 points.

Herb Melnert came off the bench to play one of the best games of his college career. The 6'3" junior tallied 10 points to pace the Greyhounds in scoring. Bob Anderson was second for the Hounds with nine markers.

The Explorers led at the intermission, by a score of 29 to 19, and then tallied 44 points in the second half to cap the contest.

Beat Wake Forest

In their next outing, Loyola's team subdued Wake Forest's quintet, by a score of 66 to 51, on Friday, December 16, here at Evergreen.

The Hounds established an early lead and were never headed for the remainder of the contest. Displaying their best pass work of the season, combined with steady floor play, Loyola soon proved too much for the visitors.

Johnson Leads Scoring

Bill Johnson, whose main forte is his consistent defensive play became offensive-minded as he paced the Loyola five with a 17-point effort. The 6-foot guard chipped in with six field goals and dropped in five out of eight attempts from the foul line.

Villanova's Wildcats dumped the Greyhounds, by a score of 49 to 45, here at Evergreen, on December 19.

Wildcats Find Going Tough

The Wildcats, rated as one of the nation's top ten teams, found it tough going and never led by more than nine points. However, the contest was marred by numerous fouls.

The looked-for duel between Bob Anderson and Villanova's Paul Arizin never materialized as both players fouled out within the first five minutes of the second half.

Freshman Basketball

Frosh Five Has Posted Enviable 7-and-2 Record

by Andy Marx

Loyola's Freshman basketball squad, coached by Lefty Reitz and Jim Lacy, have already established one of the finest records of any Greyhound frosh team in the school's history. To date they have averaged 59.4 points per game, while winning seven and losing two tests.

Paced by Guard Nap Doherty and forward Bob Schuler, they have posted wins over the Camp Meade Post team, Towson Teachers' J. V., Loyola High, University of Baltimore's J. V., Baltimore City Junior College, Towson Catholic High, and American U.'s Frosh, while dropping decisions to unbeaten Villanova and powerful Second Army.

Meade, Towson Beaten

In their first game the Green and Grey team increased a seven point half time lead to a 23 point third quarter advantage to notch an easy 15 point victory over the Camp Meade team. Against the Towson Teachers' J. V. the Hounds jumped to an early lead and then coasted

Intramurals

With 17 teams vying for the champion's crown, the Loyola Intramural program got off to a fast start last week. Only a few games have been played to date, but a tight race seems to be shaping up.

Student commissioneer Tom Kane has divided the quints into three divisions, with a playoff due among the division winners. Four games are scheduled each afternoon before varsity practice.

Meet the Faculty

Mr. Gentile Now Teaches Primary Italian Course

Making use of knowledge acquired in the service, Mr. Angelo Gentile is now teaching an elective course in Italian in addition to his regular duties as an Instructor in French. His teaching duties include courses in elementary, intermediate and advanced French.

Mr. Gentile made use of his knowledge of Italian when he acted as interpreter and translator in a service group attached to the U. S. Army service force in Italy.

Attends Brooklyn School

Born in Brooklyn, New York, he attended St. Augustine Parochial High School. After being graduated in 1936, he worked during the day and attended night school at the College of the City of New York until he entered the Army in December, 1942.

The Army sent him to the George Town School of Foreign Service, where he did a good deal of work in Italian before going overseas. He was discharged from the Army in March 1947. He then did graduate work at Fordham University until he came to Loyola in 1948.

Working For Degree

Mr. Gentile is presently working on his Master's Thesis and plans to obtain his Doctorate in the future, probably from Catholic University. He was elected to Phi Beta Kappa Fraternity.

He was married in January 1949 and has recently become a father.

Quarterly Due On February 1

The Evergreen Quarterly will make its first 1950 appearance on February 1, the first day of the second semester, according to David McManus, co-editor of the publication.

The magazine will be published in the same style as last year. Faculty members will contribute considerably to the Quarterly in addition to the regular student work.

Mr. Vincent Colino, associate professor of languages at Loyola, will contribute a poem. Mr. Gustav Herzer, acting chairman of the English Department, will edit an essay on "Advice to Future Writers."

Student contributions will be highlighted by an article by John Daglaitis and a poem by Charles Sybert. Other contributions that will appear in the magazine have not yet been definitely selected.

J. Schlinger is co-editor of the publication with McManus. William O'Connor is associate editor and Joseph Mann, business manager.

Looking Ahead

Juke Box In Every Room? Could Be — In Fifty Years

It's fifty down and fifty to go—at least some say so—as Old Father Time wearily begins the second half of his swing through the twentieth century. If the coming fifty years are as momentous as the first fifty, Mother Earth is in for quite a show.

What does the future hold for Loyola? A larger cafeteria? More exemptions? Juke boxes in every classroom? More books in the bookstore? Who knows? Only time will tell.

Perhaps the student will learn to distinguish between the grunts and groans of the bulldozers and the wrestling team's rehearsing—practicing, rather.

Baseball will still be played with a bat and ball. It is rumored, however, that the lacrosse team will be furnished sticks this year. One always felt sorry for the boys—it's no fun playing with war-surplus pogo sticks.

The swimming team will not get many chances to practice unless someone can determine a method to stop the pool from leaking up through the gym floor. More towels and managers, please!

But what about the other activities? It has been reported that several members of the Glee Club are on the screen. Perhaps in 1950 someone will open the window and let them in. The Dramatic Society plans a number of fine shows which should put several of the members on the stage—the first one out of town. The Evergreen Quarterly will publish its spring issue early—in the summer.

NEW career opportunities for you in the U. S. AIR FORCE as an

OFFICER AND NAVIGATOR

In this era of long range flights, the role of the navigator has become increasingly important.

The U. S. Air Force now offers new opportunities to young college men between the ages of 20 and 26½ who are single and can qualify for such training.

If you can meet the high physical and educational standards (at least two years of college), and are selected, you can be among the first to attend the new one-year navigator training course at Ellington Air Force Base near Houston, Texas. A new class begins each month!

You'll be an Aviation Cadet! And, you'll receive the best available training—including 184 hours in the new T-29 "Flying Classroom."

Then, graduation! You'll win your wings as a navigator . . . and a commission as a Second Lieutenant in the Air Force. After a 30-day leave with pay, you'll be ready for challenging assignments as navigator with one of the famous commands in the U. S. Air Force. Your office will be the "front office" of mighty bombers or long-range transports!

Be among the first to win your wings as a U. S. Air Force navigator under the new navigator training program—be a key man on the Air Force team!

Air Force officer procurement teams are visiting many colleges and universities to explain these career opportunities. Watch for their arrival—or get full details at your nearest Air Force Base, U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station, or by writing to the Chief of Staff, U. S. Air Force, Attention: Aviation Cadet Branch, Washington 25, D. C.

Other Flying, Non-Flying Careers
Aviation Cadet pilot training is also available to young men between the ages of 20 and 26 1/2. See about the many nonflying assignments, too! Never before in peace-time has there been such a good opportunity for college-trained men and women to obtain regular commissions in the United States Air Force.
